

E-HAPPENINGS

WESTERN NEVADA COLLEGE

October 28-November 11, 2008

NEWS

Look Out Napa! Nevada Vines May Bring Wines

Nevada Wine & Grape Seminar

Friday, Nov. 7, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Virgil Getto Hall, Fallon Campus

Cost: $25 ($20 until November 4)

RSVP: Ginny Dugan, 775-423-7565, ext. 2230

We may soon find wine country as close as Fallon or Carson Valley with the changing pace of local agriculture. Winemaker and grape grower John Caldwell of Caldwell Vineyards will tour northern Nevada vineyards and farms and then discuss the Silver State's climate, soil and water in relation to growing grapes. The seminar is part of a series of workshops to be offered by Western's new Specialty Crop Institute.

<http://www.wnc.edu/news/2008-10-27a.php>

Gremlins on the March for Halloween

Thursday, Oct. 30, 10 a.m., Carson City Campus

The annual Child Development Center Pumpkin Parade will bring tiny trick-or-treaters to the halls. The kids are adorable in their outfits, and CDC Director Andrea Doran will be finding safe passage for the children around construction areas. They'll start in Dini Student Center, and wind their way to Bristlecone Lobby, Student Services, Cedar second floor, and then Lifted Cafe.

Rachael Lambin and Others Featured in Women's World

Western student Rachael Lambin has been earning recognition for a number of outstanding community service projects. She has twice won the Prudential Spirit of Community Awards as one of Nevada's top youth volunteers, and was a finalist for a national service award. She has been lauded for her work in creating schools for orphans in Nairobi, Kenya. Now, Rachael and her brother, John-Henry, another Western student, and four others, will be featured in the November 10 issue of Women's World Magazine for another project: Rachael founded HOPE (Helping Obese People Through Education) and has assisted children with asthma and anti-tobacco efforts.

WNC Floats to be in Nevada Day Parade

WNC will be well represented at this year's Nevada Day parade Saturday at 10 a.m. in Carson City. Watch closely as the floats roll by and you'll see Western students from the Associated Students of Western Nevada, the Latino Student Club, and the Western Nevada Musical Theatre Company all participating in this fun event. Come out and support the college!

EVENTS

"Living With Schizophrenia" – A Free Lecture

Thursday, Nov. 6, 4 p.m.

Cedar Building – Marlette Hall, WNC Carson City

Information: Susan Trist: 445-3275

Celebrate Disability Awareness Month with a presentation by Dr. Frederick Frese, a psychologist who was diagnosed with schizophrenia after he served in the Vietnam War. He has learned to live with his condition and enjoys a successful career in psychology, and as an advocate in the mental health movement. The event is sponsored by WNC and the Disability Awareness Coalition of Northern Nevada.

Holiday Craft Sale

Thursday, Nov. 6, 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Bristlecone Building – WNC Carson City

Information: Kathryn Clark-Ross: 445-3260

Booth rental: $25

Time to finish making crafts and plan to attend Western's annual Holiday Craft Sale. Booth space rentals are available. Sponsored by the Classified Council.

WNMTC Presents Glorious "South Pacific"

Carson City Community Center

Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, Nov. 8-23

7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 2 p.m. Sunday

Cost: $14 youth, $16 students and seniors, $18 general admission

Tickets and Information: 445-4249

The Western Nevada Musical Theatre Company will present nine performances of Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pulitzer Prize-winning musical, South Pacific in Carson City. The play brings to life two love stories set in the Polynesian Islands during World War II with a powerhouse, big-Broadway score, including "There is Nothing Like a Dame," "Some Enchanted Evening," and "Wash That Man Right Outta My Hair." <http://www.wnc.edu/news/2008-10-17a.php>

HOLD THE DATE

Free Holiday Concert

Presented by Western Nevada College Choir

When: Tuesday, Dec. 9, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Where: Sarah Winnemucca Hall, Aspen Building, Carson Campus

Information: Chelsie Hamtak, 445-3290

Year after year, one of the most appreciated events on campus is the Holiday Concert directed by Bill Zabelsky and ably performed by the college choir. As always, the director mixes in traditional favorites and holiday music that may not have been heard for awhile. The seasonal songs to be performed includes "The Hands of Winter," "Midwinter's Chill," "deck the Halls," and many more.

Annual Wildcats Athletics Fund-raiser

Friday, Jan. 16, 2009

Cost: $100 per ticket, or $700 per table of eight

Information: WNC Foundation: 445-3240

Guest speaker will be Adam Silver, deputy commissioner and chief operating officer for the National Basketball Association. Silver, who has been with the NBA for more than 14 years, oversees NBA Entertainment which comprises all of the NBA and WNBA's television, merchandising, Internet, marketing and communications, publishing, marketing partnerships, media sales, and event management. Evening includes dinner and silent auction. Plan now to help raise funds for our baseball and softball teams!